Title of the Event and name of the venue:

INDUCTION PROGRAMME FOR I YEAR MCA STUDENTS

Venue: PG Centre Auditorium

Details of the department organizing the event in collaboration with institution:

The Department of MCA, SBRR Mahajana First Grade College (Autonomous), PG Wing, Mysuru, in association with Ambition Inc., Bengaluru, organized a two-day Induction Programme for the first-semester MCA students on 04th and 05th December 2025.

Purpose and scope of the event:

The main objective of the Induction Programme was to help the newly admitted MCA students understand the vision, culture, and expectations of the institution while preparing them for their academic journey. The programme aimed to build confidence among students, encourage interaction, and help them get to know each other better. It also focused on developing essential skills such as communication, teamwork, problem-solving, leadership, and trust through various engaging activities. Overall, the objective was to provide a positive beginning to their postgraduate studies by creating a comfortable, collaborative, and motivating learning environment.

Details of the Event:

The programme began with a formal inaugural session. Mrs. Rachana C. R., Associate Professor and Head, Department of MCA, welcomed the dignitaries and the newly admitted students, and introduced the resource persons. The inauguration was marked by the traditional lighting of the lamp by the dignitaries.

Dr. C. K. Renukarya, Director, PG Wing of SBRR Mahajana First Grade College, addressed the gathering and extended a warm welcome to the new batch of MCA students. In his address, he emphasized the importance of building a strong academic foundation and encouraged students to be proactive in developing technical and professional skills aligned with current industry needs. He further advised students to actively participate in the technical workshops, seminars, and activities organized by the college to enhance their knowledge. He concluded by reminding the students to maintain discipline, use college resources effectively, and make the best out of the learning opportunities provided to them.

The inaugural session concluded with a Vote of Thanks delivered by Mrs. Yashaswini J, Assistant Professor, expressing gratitude to all the dignitaries, resource persons, faculty members, and students for their presence and support.

The training sessions were conducted by expert trainers Mr. Manjesh Kumar K, Mr. Sunand Sampath, and Mr. Nandeesh, who facilitated multiple interactive, team-based, and communication-oriented activities throughout the programme. The two-day induction included energizers, outbound activities, group tasks, and reflective discussions. The trainers ensured active participation from every student, creating an environment that encouraged communication, creativity, and collaboration. The programme was thoughtfully structured to help students understand each other better, overcome initial hesitation, and begin their academic year with confidence.

A series of engaging activities were conducted over the two days, including Pipes and Marbles, Dodge Ball, Country Treasure Hunt, Paper Bridge, Commando Walk, Trust Slackline Walk, Blind Square, Sheep and Shepherd, Key Punch, along with several energizers. Additionally, small communication-based games were introduced to strengthen teamwork, problem-solving, coordination, and leadership skills. These activities enabled students to break the ice, communicate freely, and work together effectively. All the engaging activities were supported by a team of volunteers of final year MCA students. The resource persons very heartily acknowledged the support of the 4 student volunteers – Pavan , Sneha, Rishal and Prajwal.

Overall, the Induction Programme was lively, informative, and well-received by the students. Certificates were distributed to all the participants.
